PREFACE

This study had its beginning at the time of my last visit with my father in 1938. At that time certain factual statements were recorded and after a time were laid aside until January 1953 when I had a letter from unknown relatives, Irene and Viola Armknecht, inquiring who I was and in what way were they related to me. This letter stimulated a period of activity which yielded an outline and summary of known facts as of December 1953. In March 1949, I received from my cousin, Alvine Ekhoﬀ, through Pastor Ludwig Janssen, Etzel, Germany a Church Record of the Steinmetz lineage back to 1729. Since then Pastor Janssen has supplied additional Church Records from Etzel, Horsten, and Esens, Ostfriesland, Germany. In America, I have investigated records of numerous Steinmetz families through correspondence, cemetery visits, personal calls, Court records, Library of Congress, D. A. R. Library and source materials at Columbia and Charleston, South Carolina. Auto trips have been made to South Carolina and southeastern Nebraska.

It has been a policy to maintain a factual continuity. Place and date of birth are recorded when known. It is believed that migrations from Germany to the United States are accurate. For heads of families or unmarried individuals, their occupation or profession is recorded. It is hoped that the reader will be able to follow the social customs, trends in education and the actual status of citizens included. To the writer, this study has revealed the transition of German foreign-born individuals into fully adjusted citizens of the United States of America during the past century. In addition, some light is thrown on changes in customs and the effect school laws have had within the United States. No doubt, there will be omissions and inaccuracies but this seems to be normal in an investigation which is dependent upon so many individuals of diverse interests and widely scattered residences.

CHRONOLOGICAL HISTORY OF THE STEINMETZ FAMILY

Late in the 17th Century one Johann Phillip Steinmetz, born in Kirchberg, Southern Saxony, Germany, migrated to Esens, Province Oldenburg, North Germany, not very far from the North Sea. While no date of his birth or migration is known, it is assumed that he was born before 1700 as it is shown in Esens Church Records that his first child, born to his first wife, was baptized in 1717 at Esens, Germany. (Inf. L. Janssen, Pastor in retirement from Etzel now residing in Aurich, Germany.) My translation of the Esens Church Record, transmitted by L. Janssen in 1958, is given below:

Steinmetz, Johann Phillip

Honorable, Finance Minister of East Friesland, Lieutenant of the Homeguard of Esens, in charge of Vehicles of the same. 1750 General-Agent of the Council of Esens. Born in Kirchberg. Died?

Married I Wife: Who, when, where, not known.

This first wife died before 1735.

Married II Wife: In Esens - Tida Lucia Bierhausen in 1735.

Children from the first marriage:

1. Maria Margaretha, born 20 Aug. 1717 in Esens.
2. Anna Maria Elizabeth, born 7 Oct. 1719 in Esens.
3. Peter Phillip, born 2 July 1722 in Esens.
4. Peter Andreas Friedrich, Rector in Esens 1759 - 1762, Pastor in Berdum 1762 - 1802. Born 10 Nov. 1726 in Esens, died 17 Apr. 1804 in Wittmund.
 - I. Marriage 9 Sept. 1750 in Varel. Anna Catharina Wilkens, born 23 Apr. 1728 in Varel.
 - II. Marriage 30 June 1753 in Woquard, Ebel Eva Stieffs.
5. Georg Heinrich, Pastor in Reepsholt 1754 - 1763, Pastor in Etzel 1763 - 1767. Born 1 May 1729 in Esens, died 24 Mar. 1767 in Etzel. Married 30 Apr. 1755 in Reepsholt. Christine Charlotte Cramer, born 15 Jan. 1737 in Reepsholt, died 4 Dec. 1807 in Etzel.

Steinmetz, Georg Heinrich (born 1729)

From the above record it is obvious that Georg Heinrich Steinmetz as Pastor in Etzel 1763 - 1767 established the Steinmetz Family there and from which through a succession of five generations, John Herman Steinmetz emigrated to the United States of America in 1870.

Georg Heinrich was not only Pastor, but acquired a sizeable tract of land and operated a farm. It is said that Pastors quite frequently found it necessary to have an income other than their Pastor's stipend. One may speculate on the reason for migration from Saxony to Oldenburg, North Germany. However, history shows that Germany was in a period of readjustment and that peasant farmers were experiencing particularly difficult times. The general lowland region of North Germany and Holland had been reclaimed from the North Sea. This reclamation process seems to date back to the days of the Romans and has been a continuous process.

Recently a newspaper clipping of a large Homestead near Etzel, Germany has come to me from a relative, Anna Ekhoﬀ, of Etzel, Germany with the legend, A Farmstead From the Vicinity of Etzel, to which my correspondent added the legend: The Steinmetz Home.¹ (From Uthkündiger)

This substantiates comments by my father as late as 1938 that the original (preacher-farmer) homestead was a much larger place than the home in which he was born. It is, however, not clear whether this large farmstead belonged to Georg Heinrich, Pastor of 1763 - 1767, or some other master farmer.

That a chapel with an altar existed in very early times is shown by the structural foundations excavated. Also in early times a very high Light Tower stood to the east of the present church which directed ships on the (Jode) bay. The present church tower was built in 1666. The oldest established Pastor was Pastor Berend who worked here in 1408. Another Pastor, Johann Radiker, is said to have been a personal friend of Martin Luther. Source: a clipping enclosed in a letter written by D. B. Alden of Wall Lake, Iowa and sent to my father by cousin Henry Meinen in 1940.

In a recent letter 9 June 1960, from L. Janssen, retired Pastor of the Lutheran Church of Etzel and now residing in Aurich, it is stated that the present church was built about 1300 during the time the congregation was Catholic and that it became Lutheran about 1530. The first Lutheran Pastor was Johannes Radiker a friend of Martin Luther. At the request of Count Edzard of Ostfriesland Luther sent Radiker as a reformer.

Steinmetz, Ferdinand Rudolph Phillip

Georg Heinrich's son, Ferdinand Rudolph Phillip, after an interval, succeeded him as pastor of the Etzel Church from 1781 - 1819. A note taken from the Etzel Church Records by Pastor L. Janssen in 1947 states that John H. Steinmetz was not the first of the family to emigrate to the United States as a Jacob Eberhard August Steinmetz visited a son of Ferdinand Rudolph Phillip in the year 1795 from Charleston, South Carolina. This has been investigated at the War Memorial General Library of Columbia, South Carolina, State Museum and in the city of Charleston. Records were found of his residence at 52 Tradd Street, his place of business and his partnership, Lorent and Steinmetz. He was Prussian Consul for the port of Charleston, and was so recognized by Thos. Jefferson, President of the U. S. A. June 29, 1802. Misc. Records 3Q 1800 page 603, State of South Carolina. His application for citizenship in the United States is found in Misc. Records 4G page 133 Federal District Court, City of Charleston, June 14, 1799.

A record of a mortgage covering a bill of sale for their property and place of business of Paul Emil Lorent and Jacob Eberhard August Steinmetz to Frances Susannah Pinckney is given in Book of Mortgages 1808 - 1818, NNN pages 173 - 174 in the War Memorial General Library Columbia, South Carolina for the sum of $14,646.67. First payment to be made March 12, 1818. Mr. Steinmetz resigned from a local society known as The Friendly Society, May 28, 1817. Investigations revealed no further presence or intentions of J. E. A. Steinmetz, thus there may still remain members of the family elsewhere in the United States. Jacob Eberhard August Steinmetz was a brother to Ferdinand Rudolph Phillip Steinmetz.

The following tabulation of the Pastor's family is taken from a leaflet¹ prepared by Ludwig Janssen, retired Pastor of Etzel and now residing in Aurich:

13. Anton Eberhard, born 13 June 1817.

Steinmetz, Georg Heinrich (born 1784)

Ferdinand Rudolph Phillip's oldest son, Georg Heinrich, born to his first wife March 29, 1784 in Etzel, is next in line and probably lived in the large farm home as Master Farmer.¹ His first wife, Hilka Maria (Wessels) Steinmetz is mother of Tjarck Steinmetz, born August 29, 1810. It is noted that he was one of triple births. They were baptized September 9 and named Anke, Ferdinand Rudolph Phillip, and Tjarck.² Tjarck's older sister, Anna Catharina Margaretha, born in Etzel 12 Aug. 1808 died 11 Apr. 1840. She never married. Georg Heinrich married his deceased wife's sister, Assel Christine Wessels, in 1814. There were five children by the second marriage, thus half-brothers and sisters to Tjarck. A "Dick"³ Steinmetz came to the U.S.A. and for many years lived in the vicinities of Carlinville and Taylorville, Ill. John H. Steinmetz spoke of him as a son of his half-brother Heinrich. The Etzel Church Record indicates that his full name was George Christian Heinrich (II-h).⁴ "Dick" Steinmetz had only one child, a daughter, Mrs. Henry Gerdt³ who resides in the vicinity of Edwardsville, Ill. Her husband is deceased. There are several adult children.

Birthplace of John H. Steinmetz

The youngest daughter of Georg Heinrich Steinmetz and Assel Christine (Wessels) Steinmetz, Hilke Marie Auguste Steinmetz, married Michel Garnholt Rogge¹ of Marx, Ostfriesland. The record at hand does not give any details of their family. It is, however, known that there were children from this marriage as one Heinrich Rogge whom John H. Steinmetz referred to as a half cousin came to the U.S.A. and resided in the vicinity of Carlinville, Ill. He visited the John H. Steinmetz home near Edwardsville, Illinois on three or more occasions, about 1898 to 1905. It is definitely remembered that he visited father with his wife and 1½ year old child. Later his wife and child died. He again visited father and was very depressed and on departure said he hoped to go to the far West, probably Montana. He was never heard from again. In May 1960 Mrs. Henry Gerdt advised that Henry Rogge had died.

Steinmetz, Tjarck

Tjarck Steinmetz, born 29 August 1810, was the son of a master farmer, Georg Heinrich Steinmetz. He married Anna Catharine Folken 13 August 1841 in Etzel. According to John Herman Steinmetz Tjarck inherited a part of the Steinmetz farmstead on which there was an old wooden frame house.² At that time it was remodeled in that an outer wall of brick was built and a clay tile roof was laid. The soil is known to be poor sand, an acreage of less than 40, yet Tjarck reared a family of seven on it. In addition, Anna Catharine's father lived with them in his later years as did three children of Anna Catharine's brother.¹ The dwelling and barn are as one structure. The living quarters consisted of two clay-floor rooms, a combination kitchen, living and bedroom. Beds are built in bunk form as described by Marie Moller of Ralston, Nebr. (1959.)

At present Tjarck's great-grandson, Ferdinand, lives in the home. At its best, it is in no way equal to the original Steinmetz homestead according to my father. (1938 notes.) This homestead is the place of birth of John Herman Steinmetz.

2. Girl, born 1870, lived only a week.
3. Tjarck Heinrich Meinen, born August 5, 1871, in Horsten, Ostfriesland, Germany.

Henry Meinen and Margaret (Meinen) Wilken's older brother John lived in the vicinity of Talmage, Nebraska from 1889 until 1925 when he and his family moved to western Kansas and settled in the dry farming region. John married Lizzie Helm in Talmage, Nebraska and with their seven children, moved to Rush Center, Kansas. John died 2 Sept. 1948. One daughter, Minnie, married a man named David. They live at Dodge City, Kansas and have no children. The youngest son, Phillip, is married and has four children. They live at Greensburg, Kansas. A daughter, Edna, lives at Dodge City, Kansas

The other four, Mary, Anna, George, and Emma live with their mother on the home farm at Rush Center, Kansas. This information is considered correct as of 1953.

Heinrich went to school until he was 11, confirmed at 14 and started working as farm hand at 14. At the age of 18 he left Germany on Sept. 21, 1889 and arrived in New York Oct. 1 on a steamer. He went to his uncle John Herman Steinmetz's home at Edwardsville, Illinois who was a renter then for whom he worked almost a year. John and Henry went to Talmage, Aug. 15, 1890. Henry worked as a farm hand for John Oetken, and George Teten about three years. In 1893 John and Henry rented a farm and stayed together 1½ years. Henry then went back to Illinois 1894 to 1896 and worked for John Steinmetz; then back to Talmage and worked for Eibens in 1897. Henry received his citizenship papers in 1895. In the fall of 1898, he went back to Illinois and husked corn near Springfield. He returned to Talmage in 1899 and again worked for Eibens. He then rented a farm from John Renken and farmed two years. His mother and sister Margaret stayed with John. Henry and Jake Oetken, a second cousin, went to Germany in 1905 for two months. Hilka Maria Meinen Steinmetz, daughter of George Heinrich, born 1845, a cousin--age 15, came back with them. After Margaret and John were married, Henry's mother kept house for him. In 1911 Henry bought a large farm in the Nemaha River Valley and moved on it in 1912 and sold out in 1919 during World War I inflation and retired at the age of 49. Neighbors had helped with farming after 1915 because of his ill health, and in later years, he could not tolerate hot weather; therefore he spend summers in Colorado. In 1920 Henry and his mother moved to Talmage. Henry's mother died in 1932, but he continued to live in Talmage until 1935. He sold his house and lived with John Bruns until 1937 but during the summer of 1936, he took a trip to Washington State. In the winter of 1937, he went to Anaheim, California and later he lived in Long Beach, California every winter until 1950. He went back to Talmage the first of March each year and lived in Beatrice, Nebr. three springs and autumns (1937 - 1939) and spent the summer each year until 1950 in Colorado Springs, Colorado. In August 1951 he had a stroke and was hospitalized six weeks in Long Beach. He spent about five months in a rest home and then lived with Mrs. Pearl Abercrombie at 1109 Los Alamitos, Long Beach, California after Feb. 14, 1952 until the time of his death on April 19, 1955, at the age of 83 years, interment at St. Paul's Lutheran Cemetery, Talmage, Nebraska. He never married.

Henry was a very conservative fellow for his own needs but was generous to his friends and relatives in need. He aided relatives from Germany to the United States, helped to relieve some of his friends' debts, and contributed generously to his brother's family in Kansas. During his retirement, he spent much of his time reading, listening to court proceedings, and being among people. He was well versed on world affairs. His visits to relatives were short and gave the impression of "always being in a hurry."

4. Twins---Margaret Catherine and Catherine Margaret--- born in 1875. Died at three months with whooping cough in Germany.

5. Margaret Catherine Meinen, born Sept. 12, 1879 in Horsten, Ostfriesland, Germany, came to U.S. in the fall of 1889 at the age of 10, married Bernt Janssen Wilken Sept. 4, 1901 near Talmage, Nebr. at Meinen home. She died of pulmonary tuberculosis during childbirth. Her second child, a baby girl, was buried with her. She died June 13, 1904, Lorton, Nebr., interment at St. Paul's Lutheran Cemetery, Talmage, Nebraska.

Husband; Bernt Janssen Wilken, born Sept. 9, 1869, Leerhase, Ostfriesland, Germany. (After Margaret Catherine's death, Bernt married Augusta Eda Knake March 9, 1905. They had nine children. Augusta died Sept. 10, 1931.) Bernt was a farmer and died March 10, 1942, Sterling, Nebraska, interment at Lutheran Cemetery N.W. of Sterling, Nebraska.

Children of Margaret Catherine:

(1) Alma Marie Wilken, born December 19, 1902, Lorton, Nebraska. Alma married Harry Henry Armknecht Sept. 14, 1921. Died April 26, 1947, Omaha, Nebraska. Interment at Lutheran Cemetery N.W. of Cook, Nebr.

Husband: Harry Henry Armknecht, born May 17, 1899, Cook, Nebr. Married Leta Fahrenholz after Alma Marie's death Sept. 14, 1949. Farmer. Address: Talmage.

Alma Wilken Armknecht did not have the opportunity to complete grade school. She was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith. While attending confirmation school, she learned to read German. This was an asset to her because later she was called upon by her husband's brothers and sisters to read the German letters written by her Mother-In-Law (Arm-knecht). At the age of 14, she was considered "on her own" and was employed in several farm homes as a hired girl. She was working for the P. J. Armknecht family when she met his son, Harry, whom she married at 18 years of age. P. J. Armknecht's retired to Excelsior springs, Missouri; and, Harry and Alma remained farming the Armknecht home place. Much of her life was spent in ill health. She had a quiet, uncomplaining, submissive-type personality. She frequently expressed that she did not wish to live to an old age. She did not want to become a burden to anyone. Her wish was fulfilled when God called her to His Home at the age of 44. Her hobbies were houseplants, crocheting, and an interest in family history. Her memory for recalling dates and events was remarkable. She also was an excellent speller.

Children:

1) Albert Henry Armknecht, born Nov. 21, 1923, Talmage, Nebraska. Occupation: Farmer. Married: Barbara Arline Wellsandt December 19, 1946. Address: Talmage, Nebraska. Wife: Barbara Arline Wellsandt, born Feb. 18, 1925, Cook, Nebraska. Albert was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith and is now a member of the Grace Lutheran Church, Cook, Nebr. He completed his eight years of grade school education but his father persuaded him to stay home on the farm and work since the trend at that time was that a young man was better off working at home for his parents than receiving a formal education. It was one of the Armknecht family traditions that a child owed it to his parents to stay home and work until he was 21 years of age; and, if he fulfilled his obligation, he received $400 on his 21st birthday. However, if a child left home prior to this time to get married or seek other employment, he did not receive the $400. This tradition may have had its merit when it originated, but the current time makes it no longer practicable and it is not followed today. The Armknecht family was known to be industrious and conservative. Family recreation was limited to County and State Fairs and an occasional movie. Dancing and athletic sports were unknown to the family. Social drinking of beer and wine was an accepted custom; however, smoking was not approved, a principle to which most members of the family still adhere. Albert was drafted into the U.S. Army in June 1945. He received his basic training in Camp Hood, Texas; later he spent almost a year in Naples, Italy. He was detailed as an ambulance driver; however, one day as he was conversing with a German Prisoner-of-War, he was overheard by an American officer and thereafter was given the assignment as interpreter for the German P. W.'s. He received a rating of Private First Class. He was not in any combat as the war (World War II) was over before he left on his overseas assignment. He was discharged Nov. 1946. On 19 December 1946 he was married to Barbara Arline Wellsandt in a Lutheran Church in Lincoln, Nebraska. He has been engaged in farming on several different farms between the Cook and Talmage communities. He attended Agricultural classes sponsored by the State for veterans on the G. I. Bill.

Children:

1. Barbara Alma, born 13 Oct. 1947, Tecumseh, Nebraska.
2. David Arlin, born 23 Feb. 1949, Nebraska City, Nebraska.
3. Cheryl Ann, born 9 Nov. 1951, Nebraska City, Nebraska.
4. Dennis Albert, born 27 June 1953, Syracuse, Nebraska.
5. Joyce Arline, born 9 Oct. 1955, Syracuse, Nebraska.
6. Bonnie Aileen, born 10 July 1958, Syracuse, Nebraska.

2) Irene Ida Armknecht, born 13 August 1927, Talmage, Nebr.

R. N. and Stenographer. Address: 810 North 44th Street, Apt. 6, Omaha 31, Nebraska.

Irene and Viola were baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith and are now members of the First Lutheran Church (Missouri Synod) Omaha, Nebraska. During pre-school age their parents spoke a mixture of German and English but predominately German. On Irene's first day in school, the teacher asked her to bring him the "dust pan." She looked at him blankly as she didn't understand what he wanted, finally he got it himself. She watched what he was getting and when she learned what it was, she was overcome with embarrassment and thought to herself, "I bet he thinks we don't even have one at home." Irene completed her eighth grade education in the same one-room schoolhouse where her aunts, uncles, father and Albert had and where Robert and Viola would also receive their grade school education. Irene wanted to further her education; and, after constant pleading, her parents finally "gave in" and made arrangements for her to stay with her mother's half-sister in Cook. The rules were firmly instilled to go for education only and not to join the extracurricular activities, such as sports, school parties, etc., nor should it be found that one of the Armknechts was seen roaming the streets after school hours or during the evening. Another agreement made was that she should serve at home one year after she graduated. Graduation came in May 1945 and fulfilling her promise she assisted with the housework. Their mother's health was failing. On 10 March 1947 she became seriously ill and had large emesis of bright red blood. The doctor immediately placed her in the local hospital and began treatment for a bleeding peptic ulcer. After 18 days she showed some improvement and was discharged to her home. The doctor, however, was not entirely satisfied with her condition and made arrangements for her to enter the Immanuel Lutheran Hospital in Omaha, Nebr. on 20 April 1947. A few days later, the family went to see her, a drastic change in her condition had taken place as she was now in a semi-comatose state. On 26 April 1947, she passed away. An autopsy revealed the cause of death was a glioblastoma (carcinoma of the brain). Viola was now in her 10th year in high school. Irene continued to remain on the farm and keep house for her father, Robert and Viola. Viola's graduation from Cook High School came in May 1949.

In Sept. 1949 Harry Henry Armknecht married Leta Fahrenholz and continued his farming career on Leta's farm near Talmage. During the same month, Irene and Viola entered nurses training at Creighton Memorial St. Joseph's Hospital School of Nursing, Omaha, Nebraska. This was their first experience away from the farm home; thus they found the new surroundings and environment quite a contrast. After three years of studying and experiencing every phase of nursing and meeting the requirements of the Nebraska State Boards, they became Registered Nurses.

To satisfy their desire for travel, together they agreed their first job would be out of the State. After some research and interviews they decided upon the Lutheran Hospitals and Homes Society for their first employment. The Society managed hospitals in the seven-state area and Loveland, Colorado was chosen. Upon arrival, the Administration asked them to lend a helping hand in the Good Samaritan Hospital, Sterling, Colorado, during a shortage of professional help. After two months they returned to Loveland Memorial Hospital, their original place of employment. Loveland is situated in beautiful surroundings with snow-capped mountains stretching high above to the west with gentle rolling, irrigated farm lands spreading eastward. During their stay in Loveland several letters were received from Ann Hansen, a registered nurse and friend of their Great Uncle Henry Meinen urging them to come to Long Beach, California. After pondering the urgency they decided not to make the big move without first seeing the situation. The superintendent granted a week leave of absence. It was planned to take the train but because of heavy snow there would be a delay in schedule so they boarded a bus decked out in their best duds. After two days and two nights in the same position on the bus, they were "sorry sights" upon arrival in Long Beach but nonetheless their uncle Henry was pleased. He begged them to remain near him in Long Beach. This was December; the mild climate, green grass and flowers blooming impressed them. They then returned to Loveland to put in a proper resignation and moved to Long Beach in January 1953.

Their first employment was at Seaside Memorial Hospital as general duty nurses on medical wards. They rotated day and evening shifts but were fortunate in having the same hours.

Weekly visits were made with their uncle Henry who was living in a private rest home operated by Mrs. Pearl Abercrombie. Henry's stroke had left him with paralysis of one side and a speech impairment. It was through these visits that they learned of distant cousins, Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Steinmetz, then living in Orono, Maine.

While in nurses training, a Navy Nurse recruiter lectured on military nursing in the Navy. This had left a great impression in their minds. While at Seaside, they worked with many ex-service nurses whom they thought were exceptionally good and thus received a great deal of respect from their patients and fellow co-workers. Once again, military nursing occupied their minds and after awhile it was evident that this would be their next adventure. Before entering the Navy Nurse Corps they thought it best to locate in their native Nebraska while they were being processed and with baggage packed they departed by automobile from Long Beach July 1954.

Once again, they were employed with the Lutheran Hospitals and Homes Society, assigned to the 20-bed rural Lundberg Memorial Hospital in Creighton, Nebraska. Again, they were assigned rotating shifts with every phase of nursing.

Finally orders from the U.S. Navy Department arrived requesting them to report to St. Albans, New York on 25 March 1955 for 5½ weeks of indoctrination. The permanent duty station would be U. S. Naval Hospital, Oakland, California. Much of the time in the Navy was spent doing Psychiatric nursing. Although little travel was experienced while in the Navy they met people from all sections of the country and all walks of life. It was a wonderful experience that neither shall ever forget. The rank of Lieutenant Junior Grade was attained (and this commission in the inactive duty status in the U.S.N.R. is still held). They were released in March 1957 to inactive duty and returned to their native Nebraska.

Their next employment was at the Veterans Hospital, Omaha, Nebraska. Again they were doing general duty nursing--Irene on a medical ward and Viola on orthopedic and chest surgery ward. Their hours of duty were not the same and the rotation of shifts became more frequent.

After six years (nine years including nurses training) of rotating shifts, they felt ready for a regular day-time job and this prompted them to enter the business world. Since they were unprepared to accept a business position, they enrolled in Commercial Extension School of Commerce, Omaha, Nebraska, taking the secretarial course. Viola received her diploma in Oct. 1959 and Irene in Dec. 1959. At the present time, both have stenographic positions with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Omaha, Nebraska and are working in the same building and enjoying the same hours.

3) Robert Charles Armknecht, born 3 Oct. 1929, Talmage, Nebraska. Occupation: Farmer. Married: Ruth Elaine Brandt, 5 June 1949. Address: Talmage, Nebraska. Wife: Ruth Elaine Brandt, born 25 March 1931, Cook, Nebr. Robert was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith and is a member of the Grace Lutheran Church, Cook, Nebraska. At the time he was ready for high school, his older sister, Irene had paved the way for further education and without further ado he entered high school in the Cook Public School and graduated in 1947. He remained on the farm and helped his father. On 5 June 1949 he married Ruth Elaine Brandt in the Evangelical and Reformed Church of Osage, which is located between Cook and Talmage. Robert is engaged in farming and has been farming his father's farm (the former P. J. Armknecht family home) since his marriage.

Catharine Margaretha married Johann Fangmann of Zetel, Germany.

To them six sons were born, all of which remained in their homeland. Fred, the son of Fritz, migrated to the U.S.A. Fred was born 13 March 1907 in Wardenburg, Germany and now resides in St. Louis, Missouri. He was encouraged and assisted by John H. Steinmetz in his immigration to the U.S.A. He arrived at the home of John Steinmetz, Edwardsville, Illinois, 13 May 1925 where he remained approximately one year doing farm work for John Steinmetz and others in the vicinity. Fred, however, had served as apprentice to a baker in Germany. As a result, he had an interest in going into the Home Bakery business for which he was well qualified. Early in 1926 he obtained employment in a home bakery in St. Louis, Missouri, where he married Esther Goebel, Bunker Hill, Illinois, 13 Feb. 1931. In 1932 he was operating a bakery of his own. He has been very successful in business and has become an influence in American life. They have four children as shown in the outline above.

Another grandson of Johann and Catharine Margaretha, Georg, born 24 June 1908 in Wardenburg, Germany came to U.S.A. and arrived at the home of John H. Steinmetz 28 October 1928. After three weeks, he found employment in a shoe factory in St. Louis, Missouri, which was in a trade he had learned in Germany. He married Hildegard Marie Kunze of Altenburg, Missouri on 28 April 1935. They have one son, Ronald, born 30 December 1943. They reside at 8135 Manchester Rd., Brentwood 17, Missouri, a suburb of St. Louis.

A Translation of Father's Handwriting.

Edwardsville, Ill. 8 Aug. 1934.

I, John Steinmetz, born 9 November 1848 in Etzel, Amt Wittmund, Ostfriesland, Germany also baptized and confirmed in the Evangelical Lutheran Church. In 1870 I became interested in emigrating to America. On 1st of June I took leave of father and mother, brothers and sisters, and from the beloved fatherland. I arrived in Baltimore on the 18th of June and landed in Bethalto, Madison County (Ill.) There I stood in a strange land without money and without a home but I put my trust in God and went where He led me. I went three miles north of Edwardsville, (Ill.) and found work for seven to eight years at the farms of J. C. Burroughs and Henry Stullken and always was at home with Christian people. In 1878 I became engaged to E. M. Sophia Krome. The wedding took place in the Evangelical Church. The ceremony was performed by Pastor J. F. Kowving. We then moved to the Krome farm nearby where I now live (near Wanda, Ill.). Seven children were born, Anna in Edwardsville; Louise on the St. Louis Rd.; Ida died as an infant; John of Slater, Mo.; Ferdinand in Orono, Maine; Henry lives at home; Hilda in Shilo Valley, St. Clair Co. My dear wife preceded me in death 20 years ago. End good everything good.

Johann Herman Steinmetz was born Nov. 1848 in Etzel, Amt Wittmund, Germany. He had reported for military duty but since there was an excess number of young men for that year to fill the quota the young draftees drew numbers and he drew a deferred number. He then became interested in migrating to America and ultimately received his Emigration Certificate 2 March 1870, permitting him to go where he wished and that the Kingdom of Prussia forever gave up all claims on him as a citizen. (See facsimile.¹) His certificate shows that he was to sail from Bremen 23 May for the Port of Baltimore, but was delayed and sailed 2 June 1870. The Franco-Prussian War was in progress before he left home, but since he had the passport,² all officials respected it and no questions were asked.

He arrived at the Port of Baltimore 18 June 1870 and with him was a young lady who did not receive money which was to be on deposit in Baltimore on her arrival. Johann H. Steinmetz shared his meager funds and food with her in order that both were able to arrive at their respective destinations. He often told of being well supplied with clothing which his mother had prepared in Germany. When he got off the train at Bethalto, about seven miles from Edwardsville, Illinois 21 June 1870, he had one coin which in those days was worth about 10 cents. The coin and the linen money bag with its drawstring is in the possession of Ferdinand.

During his last year in Germany, he was employed by a large Live-stock trader. He was headgroom--thus he was in charge of horses as they were taken to market--often to Bremen. The animals were prepared with tails and manes braided with colorful ribbons in readiness for the trek to market.

J. H. Steinmetz

The horses were lead tandem style, tied head to tail. It was his duty to lead the first horse--riding was forbidden. For his services he was provided food, clothing, shelter and $50 per year. During the early years in Illinois, he obtained employment as a farm hand. Since his father was a farmer, he had farm experience. He early made the acquaintance and for a time remained with Henry Stullken, a German farmer, in Fort Russell Township. Later he found employment as a farm hand with John C. Burroughs, a cultured English-speaking gentleman, who had come from Maryland. He often spoke of Mr. Burroughs as a kind and understanding person, often brusque in his commands but kindly considerate. It was through Mr. Burroughs that he learned American ways and the use of the English language. Here he was assisted in acquiring the necessary instruction to become a U. S. citizen. This citizenship declaration was filed 4 Nov. 1873 at Edwardsville, Madison County, Illinois and bears his signature, Johann Herman Steinmetz.

He often said that he had decided that he would not work for recent German immigrants as he thought the best way to become a U. S. American citizen was to work for English-speaking people. As a result, he learned to speak and read English fluently. Later within the family German was the parental language. As children, through Ferdinand, English was first learned in public school. Henry and Hilda acquired English from their older brothers and sisters. After English was learned the family conversed among themselves in that language. However, the parents usually replied and spoke in German. The Eden Evangelical Church services were in the German language. The transition from German to English began about 1910 and today German is not used or even heard in the community.

John H. Steinmetz married Engel Marie Sophia Krome, daughter of Engel Marie (Stahlhut) Krome and J. Frederick C. Krome 28 Feb. 1878 in Edwardsville, Illinois. The couple began farming on a tract of land (partly forested) in Edwardsville Township and owned by the bride's parents. The house was a log cabin as were the other structures. During the approximately eleven years occupancy, much effort was devoted to land clearance and deforestation. In 1886 he acquired his first tract of land--The N. E. Quarter of the Southwest Quarter of Section ONE Twp. 4, Range 9, west of the Third Principal Meridian, situated in the County of Madison, Chautau Twp., in the State of Illinois.

During the year 1888 he leased the large John C. Burroughs farm in Ft. Russell Twp. which the family occupied until March 1897. This was the farm on which he served as farm hand seven years. It was well equipped with large house and barn, extensive crop land and pasturage, a total of over 300 acres. During those years agriculture was not in a high state of prosperity. The low prices of farm commodities and the Bank failure of 1896 are well remembered, wheat 48 cents per bushel, corn 19 cents per bushel, potatoes 7 cents per bushel, hogs $2.50 per hundred weight, a good pair of horses $80. No doubt the earlier years of this farm tenure were not as depressive. During these years the tract of land in Chauteau Twp., previously cited was sold and a farm in Lawrence County, southwest Missouri, was acquired and held for several years. During the year 1896 the John Ryan farm (100 acres), adjacent to the Krome farm previously occupied, was purchased to which the family moved in March 1897. Early after 1900 a 240-acre farm near Slater, Mo. was acquired. A 286-acre farm, known as the Valley View Farm in Ft. Russell Twp., Madison County, Illinois was also bought in 1901 and held for many years. A sizeable farm near Wellington, Mo. and a small farm near Glasgow, Mo. were purchased about 1908 - 1910. The Lawrence County, Wellington and Glasgow, Mo. farms were essentially speculative investments and held for relatively few years. The John Ryan farm was owned by the youngest son, Henry, but is now sold to his tenant, and the Slater, Mo. farm was owned by the oldest son, John. The Valley View Farm was sold during the settlement of the John Steinmetz estate, circa 1945.

During the early years at farming John Steinmetz utilized the reaper, a machine which cut and dropped the loose sheaves of grain, followed by a harvester which used wire as a tying material. Wire soon was replaced by sisal twine. His early corn planter required one person to operate a lever each time a mark appeared on the planter wheel. This dropped two or more grains in hills. Later the check-row planter appeared. It was equipped with mechanisms through which a notched wire strung across the field tripped the dropping device. With this planter the corn was cultivated both ways but required an experienced operator. The first potato planter used was made by a local blacksmith. It had rotating plates which dropped cut pieces of tubers similar to that of a modern corn planter. About 1900 the Aspinwall pressure potato sprayer was introduced, previous equipment was a mounted barrel to which two or more nozzle spray hoses were attached. This was a gravity device. At that time, Paris Green for potato bugs was the only spray material used.

There is one gruesome experience the Steinmetz family will never forget. Because of the lack of farm labor Mr. Steinmetz placed his oldest son, age eleven, in charge of a four horse team hitched to a planker. The father drove three spirited mules hitched to a recently sharpened spike-tooth harrow. Together the operations were preparing the soil for seeding winter wheat. During the lunch hour the father decided that a prod stick would be useful to keep the 4-horse team in motion. Thus he went to the edge of the field to cut the stick. As he returned the ever present family dog began to bark and in turn the 3-mule team began to run directly toward the two sons. The second oldest escaped but John, the oldest, stumbled and fell - the mule team and harrow went directly over him. He received several flesh wounds and as a result missed a month of school but the second oldest, Ferdinand, got the scare.

Then there was the ice storm of about 1891 when the three older children walked the usual mile to school. It was necessary for them to get down on hands and knees in order to get up a small hill on the road. Such was the parents insistence that the children attend school disregarding weather.

The family was at work. Time for play was Sunday, holidays and at school recess. It was planned to feed and clothe the family through sale and/or barter for butter and eggs. As children, the family went to church and Sunday School in the farm wagon. Later a "carry all" with springs and a top with storm curtains for conveyance was purchased.

Church attendance was regular. As a family, the church holidays were never forgotten.--New Year's Day, First and Second Easter Days, Pentecost, Thanksgiving and Christmas were observed. Prayers were offered at each meal during which the entire family assembled. No farm work, other than essential chores, was performed on Sunday. Once there was an annoying misunderstanding among neighbors who insisted they must thresh their wheat on Sunday. After a few years, Sunday threshing was discontinued in the circuit. Mr. Steinmetz once told a group why he never played cards- although not opposed to the pastime game as such. It seemed that he and a group of boys had indulged in card playing at the local tavern for which his father reprimanded him severely. Thus he vowed he would never play cards again.

As for education, it was a policy that the children attend public school regularly. All the children passed through the eighth grade in the one- or two-room schoolhouses, only the youngest daughter passed the County Superintendent's examination. High school was considered to be for town pupils and very few of them attended.

John H. Steinmetz made only one trip to his native home in 1906. His passport signed by Elihu Root, Secretary of State, is dated 14 August 1905. He was away approximately six weeks. He reported a pleasant voyage and spent most of his time visiting immediate relatives.

During the year 1924 he had a substantial monument erected on the graves of his father and mother which are located in the church yard of the Evangelical Lutheran Church at Etzel. This is the church in which he was baptized and confirmed. In fact, an active contact was maintained with his home church, relatives and friends during his lifetime.

He never held a political office but was a member of the local District School Board. He always attended elections and exercised his franchise. He was a member of the Eden Evangelical Church of Edwardsville, Illinois during his life in America. His ideals and character were of a high order. During the latter years he took part and contributed toward the building of a new church edifice, which replaced the outgrown one built in 1868.

He lived near Edwardsville, Illinois almost continuously and on the same farm from 1897 to 1940. He seemingly took leave from his employer in Illinois and went to eastern Nebraska for a part of one year. He often described the arrival of the grasshopper flight in Nebraska and said that disastrous experience caused him to return to Illinois. Since records indicate that the first serious grasshopper plague occurred in 1874, it is assumed to be the year.

He began farming in 1878 and often told of his equipment: two horses, wagon, single furrow walking plow, and a wooden-frame harrow. There were no planting machines for corn or potatoes. With this equipment and his savings after eight years of labor as farmhand, he began farming. To add to his working capital, he sold cordwood. He told of cutting a cord of wood 4 x 4 x 8 feet stack one day and hauling it to market some nine miles the next, for which he obtained $5. Yet, in those times needs were modest and with good health and industry after 60 years, he ended his life relatively well to do.

Five children were born on the Krome farm. Only the oldest child was born in the original log cabin. Frederick Krome had a substantial six-room frame house built in which Louise, John, Ferdinand and Hilda were born. Henry was born in the house on the Burroughs farm. Hilda was born in grandmother Krome's room as the event occurred a few days before the family moved to the recently acquired John Ryan farm nearby.

Anna was the oldest child in the family and, therefore, undoubtedly lived through more stringent times and carried heavy responsibilities in the family. She had a one-room grade school education. As a beginner in the same school, the names of two boys and two girls in that class can now be readily recalled. As a farm girl, she often assisted in field work, such as driving a team or loading hay. She was born before High School attendance was required and, even more, before High School attendance was popular. She and her husband, Henry Schaefer, lived on the Valley View Farm from 1905 until her husband's death in 1921. Henry was a good farmer and a man of high ideals and integrity.

Their oldest son, Alfred, attended High School one year but because of his father's failing health he dropped out of school and after farming several years he sold out and has followed the carpenters trade since. William, being seven years younger, was in his lower teens when his father died and with his mother took up residence in Edwardsville. Thus William obtained a four-year High School education, following which, he enrolled in a Commercial School. Later he found employment in a railroad office in which he continues to be employed with the company in St. Louis, Mo. as a Chief Accountant.

Louise passed through the eight grades of the one-room Rural School but like her older sister, formal education ceased there. She married a brother of Anna's husband. They were farmers and finally owned her husband's family home farm which was sold following her husband's death. Neither of their two daughters received education above the eighth grade in Rural School. Their father felt that girls did not need a High School education. Their two sons attended High School and completed the four-year course.

Elmer and John found employment with the Illinois, Madison Co., Farm Bureau. They each drove trucks and delivered gas, oil, and other farm supplies. They have been very successful and have been granted Service Awards. More recently Elmer, because of his failing health, has been given work in the home office.

The oldest daughter Esther, became a widow early in life with two sons to provide for. As a result, she with her sons lived with her parents. The outcome was that Louise had the responsibility of bringing up two grandsons. The mother found employment in a local department store. Louise's second daughter, Lorene, is a housewife. Her husband is employed in a local creamery.

John and a neighbor boy, William Brave, were suddenly overtaken by "Wander-Lust." Thus in the Spring of 1908 they went to Talmage, Nebraska where Henry Meinen lived. John decided upon carpentry and for 3 years served as an apprentice. He was married in 1911 to Louise Kreimer of Talmage, Nebraska. In 1914 he and his wife and daughter, Ardell, moved to the Slater, Missouri farm which he operated and finally purchased. The carpenter's trade became an asset to him as he used it on the farm where he built a modern farm house, barns, and outbuildings. John became a leader in his community and served on church and school boards. For many years he was secretary of the Farmers' Cooperative Grain Elevator Company. He solicited Farm Insurance and was a promoter of the Cooperative Movement. He retired to Slater, Missouri in the Spring of 1949 and leased the farm to his son, Roland J. Steinmetz. John died February 15, 1958 in Marshall, Missouri while undergoing abdominal surgery and is buried in Slater, Missouri Cemetery. His wife, Louise, survives him and is now in a home for aged in Fayette, Missouri.

Ardell lives in Los Angeles, California. Before her marriage in 1932 she attended Peru State Teacher's College, Peru, Nebraska during several summer sessions and taught grade school in Missouri. In California she has been employed in business for several years. Her husband, Warren D. Bailey, is a graduate of the Peru State Teacher's College. He taught High School three years 1927-'30, served as High School Principal 1930-'33 and was promoted to Superintendent of Schools, North Loup, Nebr. 1933. He attended Radio and Television Trade Schools during summers and in 1937 obtained Radio Telephone First Class License at Kansas City, Mo. In 1937 he was transmitter engineer and studio control operator for Station KXBY in Kansas City, Mo. He served as Chief Engineer at KFJB, Marshalltown, Iowa. Following an adventure in business in 1939-'40 he returned to the engineering field of transmitting, installing, supervising and teaching communications and radio navigation. In 1943 he joined the Western Electric Company service. Since that time he has been employed by the Western Electric Co., Inc. Field Engineering Force at numerous points along the Pacific and Atlantic Coasts as well as Hawaii and Japan. At present he is stationed on the Pacific Coast as Senior Engineer of the Western Electric Co., Inc.

Their two children are both in college courses. Mariel is enrolled in the third year nurses training course at Mt. St. Mary's College in Los Angeles while Bruce is in his second year at the University of California, Los Angeles enrolled in the Law School.

Their two sons served in World War II. In 1941 J. Hubert was employed with a construction company operating on the Island of Palmira before hostilities broke out in the Pacific Arena. He returned to his home early in 1942 to enlist. With his previous experience in construction work in the Pacific it was quite logical that he enlist in the Seabees and he returned to that Arena to assist in the urgently needed construction.

J. Hubert served from 1942 - 1945 with the Seabees of the U. S. Overseas Forces. Roland J. trained as a Pilot in the U. S. Air Force from 1943 - 1945 and was ready for duty when the war ended. Following his return to civilian life he received an appointment in the U. S. Postal Service as Rural Mail carrier at Slater, Missouri and operates a farm.

Ruth is a housewife. Her husband, Roy Wright, is a veteran of World War II. He served in the U. S. Navy from Oct. 1944 - June 1946 in the Armed Guard in the Atlantic until the war ended in Europe. He was then transferred to the 6th Fleet in the Pacific stationed on a Destroyer. During his service he visited England, France, Hawaiian Islands, Guam, Okinawa, China, Korea and Manchuria. At present Roy is in commercial employment. All of John's children received a High School education.

Ferdinand grew up as a farmer but at the age of 20, he enrolled in a commercial school in St. Louis, Missouri. After eight months, he received its diploma. In April 1907, he passed Civil Service examination for postal clerk and was appointed July 1, St. Louis, Missouri. He resigned after two months because of disillusionment and general dislike of supervision in contrast to the freedom he knew as a boy on the farm. He spent the following year on the home farm. During that year at the age of 22 he became interested in pursuing a general education with no particular vocation in mind.

As implied previously, he neither had passed the eighth grade County Superintendent's examination nor had he attended High School. Finally he interviewed the County Superintendent who advised him to apply to the President of the Eastern Illinois State Normal School. This was in the Fall of 1908. The school was new having opened in 1900. At that time, eighth grade graduates were admitted. It is assumed that his application was accepted because of age and the eight-month Commercial Course in St. Louis. After five years, he was granted a diploma with extra credits. From here he attended the University of Illinois, registering in Agriculture, and was graduated with their B. S. A. degree in 1915. Since an interest in teaching was acquired in the Normal School he followed up with work planned in Agricultural Education. Thus after seven years and with a B. S. degree, he found employment at Truman, Minnesota as a High School teacher of Agriculture. Three years later, he obtained an appointment in Agronomy at the University of Minnesota and began advanced study. The M. S. degree was awarded in 1921 and the Ph. D. in 1926 with a split minor in Agronomy and Plant Pathology and a major in Botany. One year later he was appointed Prof. of Botany at the University of Maine where he served until his retirement in 1954. During his service at the University of Maine he was Head of the Department of Botany and Entomology and Chairman of Graduate Study in the College of Agriculture and served on numerous university administrative committees. His interests and efforts in the development of graduate work were notable. As recognition for his campus activities and scholarship he was elected to the Society of Phi Kappa Phi and the Society of the Sigma Xi. He has been listed in American Men of Science for many years and in Who's Who in America in 1952. In 1949 the Eastern Illinois State Teacher's College awarded him an honorary Dr. of Pedagogy degree. His publications treat agriculture, taxonomy, plant pathology, plant physiology, mycology, and aerio-biology. With his wife he moved to Union Springs, New York to be near their daughter, Margaret, who resides on a farm nearby.

Margaret attended Orono High School during rather hectic years when the school population had outgrown its facilities and the town was reluctant in voting the construction of a new building. She entered the University of Maine in the Fall of 1936 and registered in Home Economics. Girl Scout activities and organization were then poorly developed in Orono. Thus she found employment during vacations in Seashore Hotels. On campus she participated in extra-curricular activities such as the Maine Christian Association and Maine Outing Club. In her senior year she was elected President of her Sorority. This provided problems as well as pleasures. Following graduation, she taught Home Economics two years in Presque Isle, Maine High School and then held a similar position in the Public High School at East Greenwich, Rhode Island for one year. Following this she attended Cornell University Summer Session and was successful in obtaining part-time employment which made it possible to do part-time graduate work in Home Economics at Cornell. After two years following receipt of the M. S. degree she was employed by the College of Home Economics, Cornell University as 4-H Club Specialist in Home Improvement--a position she held for four years previous to her marriage to Ralph A. Mosher of Union Springs, New York. When she resigned her rating was that of Assistant Professor of Cornell University. Her husband, a Cornell graduate, is a veteran of World War II having served at Oak Ridge, Tennessee. At present Ralph operates a large farm and has a sizeable herd of Registered Guernsey cattle at Ridgeway Farm, Union Springs, New York.

Harriet Ann graduated from High School in 1942 and entered college during the turbulent days of World War II. During these years colleges were operating on an intensified schedule. Military units were maintained on the campus and directed by the U. S. Armed Forces. Thus, men were allowed to acquire one or more years of college education parallel to basic military training. At best, college education and campus life were abnormal as compared with peace-time activities. In the later war years, few men were enrolled and those remaining were classified as disqualified for military service and known as Class 4F.

Harriet found herself in the midst of it all. It was her lot to be elected as President of the Maine Christian Association organization. Thus, it was in other campus activities, the women students carried the load. As a result, she automatically acquired leadership training which in later days remain as an asset. She was graduated from the University of Maine with emphasis on biology and education.

Throughout her upper grade and high school days she was active in school and Girl Scout activities, having attended summer camp for ten years. She became a Junior Counselor in Girl Scout Camp during her later college years. Following graduation she was Girl Scout Executive in Bridgeport, Connecticut, an office she held for three years previous to her marriage to Harold R. Fray, Jr., who completed his college education at Wesleyan University as a Veteran under the G. I. Bill. He graduated from Union Theological Seminary in 1956. Since then he has been Pastor of the Plymouth Congregational Church in Utica, New York.

John was a regular student at the University of Maine from September 1940 until he was taken from the Campus Military Training group and sent to Army Officer's Training Camp during his Junior mid-year. He was registered as a major in chemistry. Following intensive training at Camp Wheeler, Fort Knox and Fort Benning, he was sent overseas in late January 1945 as Second Lieutenant with the 71st Division, Co. M 66th Infantry.

John was active in Boy Scouts of America and attained Eagle Scout rating. During two successive summers, he was junior Boy Scout leader in Camp Roosevelt, Bangor, Maine where he attended successive summer camp seasons. In High School, he was a member of the basketball team and played the violin in the High School Orchestra. It was his ambition to be a baseball player-while in college he followed up in basketball. He was an active member of the Maine Outing Club and was its President during his last year in college. During his two college vacation years, he was Junior leader at a Commercial Camp for boys near Belgrade, Maine. With his Army Unit, he landed in France in early February 1945, following which the unit moved southward and joined the 7th Army entering Germany at Pirmasens. After operations along the Rhine, the unit crossed the Rhine north of Frankfurt where they were assigned to the 3rd Army under General Patton. He was mortally wounded as Forward Observer, directing fire of 81 milli-meter mortars, near Leisenwald, Germany, on April 2, 1945. His body was buried at Streitburg, Germany, then St. Avold, France and now is interred in Arlington Virginia National Cemetery in Grave #5464.

Henry continued to live on the home farm. After his marriage he took over the farm. His father continued to live on the home farm until his death in 1940. Later Henry purchased the Steinmetz home farm which he sold to his tenant in 1959. Because of a respiratory ailment, he and his wife lived in town during recent years as dust and other farm materials made farm life unbearable for him. Both he and his wife completed the eighth grade but neither attended High School.

Hilda was six years old when Louise was married. Thus she grew up in the surroundings of her older brothers. Her mother was failing in health and died when Hilda was 16 and for the next seven years she carried the load as housekeeper for the remaining family. She has the distinction of having passed the County Superintendent's examination. Her two children acquired High School education. Hilda's husband began farming on his father's large and well-developed farm, which he later purchased. The parents reside on a small farm adjacent to the home farm in the Shilo Valley near Scott Field, U. S. Army Air Base. Following their retirement their son, Delmar, took over the farm operations. Their daughter, Elsie, married Orville Seibert who operates his family home farm which is about two miles distant. He served in the U. S. Air Force from 16 Sept. 1942 to 3 Dec. 1945 and was Staff Sergeant stationed in England for 31 months from 4 May 1943 to 27 Nov. 1945. They have three sons. Thus it is apparent that the John Herman Steinmetz family primarily has been interested in agriculture. In the main they have made farming a success. During the lifetime of the present generation, farming has become completely mechanized. Not one of them has horses or mules as farm draft animals.

V. Steinmetz, Christian A. Ferdinand

Christian A. Ferdinand Steinmetz was born 22 May 1858, in Etzel, Amt Wittmund, Ostfriesland, Germany. He died 28 July 1886 in a drowning tragedy near Talmage, Nebraska. Tombstone records at McWilliams Cemetery, near Lorton, Nebraska of C. A. F. Steinmetz family are given below:

C. A. F. Steinmetz died July 28, 1886, 28 yrs.,
2 mos., 6 days.
Anna Maria Steinmetz died July 28, 1886, 22 yrs.,
5 mos., 6 days.
George H. Steinmetz died July 28, 1886, 1 yr.,
1 mo., 15 days.

Christian August Ferdinand born 22 May 1858 in Etzel came to U. S. A. and went directly to Nebraska in 1882. He was a carpenter by trade. He married Anna Maria Ekhoﬀ of Talmage, Nebraska. C. A. Ferdinand, Anna Maria, their one year old son, George H., and Anna's brother, George Ekhoﬀ, were coming home from a visit with Anna's kinfolk at night riding in a farm wagon drawn by a pair of mules. As the team was crossing an unbannistered bridge, the mules shied away from some water which had been spilled on the bridge and backed into the stream at freshet stage. The tragic accident ended in the drowning of the entire family. Anna's brother, George, alone survived. They are buried in the McWilliams Cemetery near Lorton, Nebraska.

VI. Heeren, Anna Catharina Margarethe (Steinmetz)

Anna Catharina Margarethe (Steinmetz) Heeren, born 10 Apr. 1851. Etzel, Germany. Died 28 Sept. 1934. Married Harm Heeren, born 2 Feb. 1840. Died 26 June 1933. Res: Friedeburg in Ostfriesland, Germany.

Children:

1. Anna Marie Heeren, born 24 Feb. 1885. She never married. She had been a teacher.

Anna Catharina Margarethe and husband had only one daughter, Anna Maria whom her uncle, John H. Steinmetz befriended on his visit to Germany in 1906. She had expressed a desire to go to America, but as the time approached, she changed her mind and did not leave Germany. Her uncle willed Anna Catharina $50 which Anna Marie received since her mother died in 1934.

VII. Steinmetz, Christine Auguste Dorothea

Christine Auguste Dorothea Steinmetz, born in Etzel, Germany 11 Nov. 1860. She married Janssen who died about 1920.

Children:

1. Heinrich. Killed in the Austrian Campaign with the German Army in 1917.
2. Fritz. Came to U. S. and Nebraska about 1910 at the age of 15.

Christine married Janssen. They had two sons--Heinrich and Fritz. Her husband died when the sons were quite small leaving her in difficult circumstances. Fritz came to the U. S. A. in 1910 at the age of 15 and lived at Talmage, Nebraska with Henry Meinen for one or more years. He was drafted into the United States Army during World War I and was sent overseas. It was his lot to be on the transport which was sunk by a German submarine in the English Channel. He was among the survivors and was brought back to the continental United States.

For a time he was in New York City and several relatives heard from him. The last letter received from him about 1924 stated that he had employment in a restaurant. No one has heard from him since although there have been rumors that he had been in Omaha, Nebraska.

Nebraska Cousins and Friends

In addition to "Dick" Steinmetz and Henry Rogge who settled in Illinois, John H. Steinmetz had cousins and numerous friends from his home neighborhood who emigrated to southeastern Nebraska and settled on homestead land in the late 1860 to 1890 period. Among them, the family names of Frerichs, Winklehake, Wendell, Renken, and many others appear. Berndt Folken and John Folken were sons of Stillahn Folken. According to Anna Ekhoﬀ (Etzel, 1960 letter) there also were two additional Folken brothers and cousins of John H. Steinmetz who came to U. S. A.; namely, Dirk and Herman Folken. Of the latter two there is no information. Berndt and John came to America about 1882 and stopped with John H. Steinmetz for an extended time before going westward to Talmage, Nebraska. Berndt married Johanna Frerichs¹, born in Etzel in 1873 and came to Nebraska in 1891. They were married soon after her arrival in Talmage. Berndt and Johanna had four children. They lived continuously near Talmage. Berndt died in 1943. Johanna lived several years later with her son, Fritz, in Talmage. Mrs. Catharine Boercher of Unadilla, Nebraska is Fritz's oldest sister. There is no information on the other two children. Fritz resides in Talmage, and is unmarried. John H. Steinmetz's aunt, Talke Folken, married Johann Joachim Ekhoﬀ in Etzel, Germany in 1834. Two of their daughters with their husbands came to U. S. A. Talke Marie married Johann Oetken in Etzel, Germany and went directly to Nebraska while Margretta, born 1839, married Johann Eckhoff in Etzel, Germany of an unrelated lineage which had been in Turkey for generations, then went to Russia, on to Netherlands and to Germany and finally to U. S. A. Margretta and husband came to Bethalto, Illinois in 1868 where they stayed 4 years with an Eckhoff family of her husband's lineage. From there they went to Talmage, Nebraska in 1872. Margretta died in 1921 at the age of 82. Her husband died in 1907 at the age of 71. John H. Steinmetz attended Margretta's funeral. Margretta's oldest daughter married Christian A. Ferdinand Steinmetz - both are deceased. Her brother, George, never married. The only living daughter of which there is information is Hellene (Mrs. John Juilfs). They had 3 sons and 2 daughters. As far as it is known they reside in Nebraska. Talke Maria and her husband lived in the vicinity of Cook, Nebraska while Margretta and her husband lived in the vicinity of Talmage, Nebraska. Members of both families continue to reside in the same areas. (The above information has been extracted from letters from Margretta's daughter, Mrs. Hellene Juilfs of Talmage, Nebr. and Anna Catharina Ekhoﬀ, Etzel, Germany. Additional information was obtained in conference with Jacob Oetken, Talke Marie's son, during a visit in his home August 1959.

1. Newspaper account of Mrs. Berndt Folken's funeral

As stated previously Talke Marie (Ekhoﬀ) Oetken and her husband Johann F. Oetken lived in the vicinity of Cook, Nebraska. As far as is known two children survive, Mr. Jacob J. Oetken and Mrs. Fred (Mattie) Wendell both of Cook, Nebraska. Jacob married Ida C. Weber of Cook, Nebraska 14 Apr. 1910. They celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary 14 Apr. 1960 at Cook, Nebraska. They have 3 children, John Oetken, Roy Oetken, and Mrs. Lloyd (Verona) Scheer, all of Cook. They also have 9 grandchildren and 3 great-grandsons. The Oetkens were farmers until their retirement when they moved into Cook 20 years ago.
